Social Security

Delay in filing a disability claim under the social security program can cause loss of benefit payments. Jerome H. Drane, social security manager in Gulfport, said today.

Many people with serious illnesses or injuries fail to inquire about disability benefits because they rely on information from friends and neighbors which may be incorrect or out of date, or think their condition isn't serious enough or will improve. These people risk possible loss of their social security benefits.

Drane suggested that people who have impairments that keep them from working should check with their social security office within four months from the date they had to stop working. This will help speed up any claim for benefits and mean a prompt payment of the first check. He stressed that under no circumstances should a disabled person wait more than 18 months before inquiring. "There is a six-month waiting period before benefits can be paid. But back benefits can be paid for only 12 months. So, after 18 months, people will be losing money," Drane said.

For more information about the social security disability program, Drane suggested that people get in touch with their social security office and ask for Pamphlets 29 and 871. The Gulfport social security office is located at 1022 32nd Avenue. The telephone number is UN-4-2022.

When you went to work this morning, you probably thought, "Just another day, very much like the other 23,742 in my life." Wait a minute! Did you think that?

If you did, it means you are now 65 years old. 65 years old and still working right along. Don't intend to retire for quite some time yet?

That's fine. The United States Government believes that people should continue working as long as they want to. Retirement is a good thing if you like retirement.

If you don't like retirement, it is a bad thing to have to retire. That's why the Government feels it's up to each person to decide for himself.

In fact, the social security law has special provisions for people who don't retire. Although old-age insurance benefits are paid mostly to retired people, workers 72 and over can receive their full monthly social security benefits even though working full time.

Workers under 72 will have some of their benefits withheld if they earn over $1,200. How much depends on their total earnings, and the amount of benefits payable. In some cases, though, people may earn more than $4,000 a year and still receive social security benefits. The good news is that in some cases, a Government check may be sent money owed you. One way to find out for sure, the social security office for the area is located at 1022 32nd Ave. in Gulfport, Mississippi.

"DAD BURN RIGHT, WE OWN THIS EPA!"

This ole-timer is a proud member-owner of his Electric Power Association. He helped organize the non-profit business when his community couldn't get electric service for decent living and progress any other way.

Sure he's proud that he and his neighbors share in the local control and ownership of his EPA. He is proud of the economic progress of his people of his community—merchant, farmer, mill hand, salesman—that has been a direct result of his electric power business. And, he is rightly proud that his EPA is a self-paying, free enterprise in the truest sense of American business.

Naturally, this ole-timer resents the completely false charges of federal ownership and the clever insinuations that his home-owned association should "get out of business" and "vacate areas" it pioneered, because certain segments of the lines it built now appear profitable to those who did not want to provide rural service when the going was tough.

Well does he understand that it takes "good areas" to help pay the cost of serving the more sparsely settled areas of rural homes, and farms... with reasonable rates... to pay off loans with interest... and to continue total rural coverage with electric power which is so essential to the progress of Mississippi.

'Dad Burn Right!' He and his neighbors own the system, lock, stock and barrel. They know that non-profit Electric Power Associations offer the only insurance of continued rural service with reasonable power rates, and they're proud of it.

Katcha Ketchum

Good weather of the past week, although real warm, did not hurt fishing to any extent.

Speckles, white trout and bull croakers are still being caught up Jordan River as well as a few red fish. The water in Watt's and Edward's Bayous was still a little on the muddy side but a little clearing rapidly after a couple of real showers last week. Dredging in these streams the past two years of canals, with the banks still not packed, cause them to become muddy by rains washing the mud into the canals. It only takes a few days for the streams to clear. Low tides in the afternoons help fresh water fishing plenty. According to Raoul Telhiard, green trout are still striking live shrimp most everywhere. Fly fishermen are reporting good catches of fresh water fish.

Hard crabbing is still good with plenty of crabs being caught. Hank Evans and Capt. Fudge are getting their share. A crab trap or a few crab nets is all that is needed to furnish the table with plenty of boiled or stuffed crabs.

Fish heads or chicken necks are the best baits.

We have learned an easy way to get the meat from boiled crabs for salad or stuffing hard crabs. Boil the crabs, break the shells off, remove the dead man and flip on the back. Break remaining parts in half then cut them lengthwise in half and hit on a carving board or table. The crab meat will fall out. No digging the meat out. We are never too old to learn.

Another good way to remove cat fish from the hook is to use a flipper made of heavy wire, bent at the end. Insert the line into the bent part of the wire. Vary the fish will be thrown off. Be sure the fish is thrown away, not toward you. Cat fish fins make a nasty wound a pair of fish grabbers are excellent for holding cat fish while the hook is being discharged. Ordinary pliers when inserted in the mouth of the fish is also very effective. Don't hold small cat fish in the hand unless you are experienced in handling them.

Alden Mauffray and John Seafide Jr., experienced a regular incident Sunday. Running in an unusual low bayou full of grass their motor became hot and burst up. After rowing for quite a few miles they landed at a familiar landing in Louisiana near Pearlport. The families of the two men became excited when they did not return at the usual time. A group of men consisting of Mayor Seafide, Emile Piazza, Deputy Sheriff Gerald Price, Jr., Dec Elliott, Lucien Kidd and Russell Elliott, members of the Civil Defense and Rescue Squad went MARY MILLS of Gulf Hills Country Club and Dude Ranch, Ocean Springs and winner of the Women's National Open Golf Championship is shown being signed in as the first entrant in the annual Mary Mills Mississippi Gulf Coast Invitational Golf Tournament to be held November 14, 15, 16 and 17 at Gulf Hills Country Club and Dude Ranch. The prize money for the tournament is $15,600.00 and is the largest purse ever offered for a Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament. The tournament site will rotate yearly between Mary Mills home course at Gulf Hills and the Broadwater and Edgewater golf courses. Signing her in is Charles "Chuck" Wynn managing director of Gulf Hills and the 1963 Mary Mills Mississippi Gulf Coast Invitational Golf Tournament chairman.

In search of the men After a diligent search they were located at the landing and returned home none the worse for their experience.

Alden and John reported catching a nice string of fresh water fish. Our Civil Defense and Rescue workers have done a wonderful job at different times and are to be congratulated.

Carl Baldenhoff reported catching some large croakers near his home up Jordan River. He said they were biting like mad. A perch pole and dead shrimp were the weapons used.

Kittens take boat ride. Four young kittens placed aboard August Rauxet's new boat by their mother accompanied the fishermen to Chandelier Island Sunday. Found by the men they were returned home and greeted by a worried mother.

Hank Evans, living on his large boat anchored in Watt's Bayou has been catching some nice crabs. He gets a kick out of catching them and is a busy man running his traps. We are eating boiled crabs regularly, thanks to Hank.

Local fans of the fight game were sorry to hear of Ralph Dupas losing his crown in Italy the past weekend. Ralph has a number of friends at the Bay.

According to those who saw a fish about 10 inches long caught in a trawl out in front of the seawall said it had all the markings of a Barracuda. Lloyd Ladner who has the fish has been getting a kick out of showing it to his customers. Who knows, some day we may have barracuda fishing right at our front door.

Pete Garcia who is stationed at Fort LeJeune in North Carolina is home for a short stay. Pete expects to catch up on his fishing while here. He was telling us how they catch them in North Carolina. Pete who has been in service for the past 7 years, is always glad to be home and with friends.

Jack Seuzeneau has been doing some good fishing out at Free Mason Keys. He flies to the fishing grounds where a landing strip has been built. It's a lot of fun, he says. Promised to take yours truly soon.

Lloyd Blount, manager of our local Yacht Club, said that nice catches of fish have been brought in lately by those going out to the marshes. He ought to know.

Chas. Fudge, home on vacation has been catching plenty of hard crabs off his wharf. His neighbors get most of them.

FRANK TRAPANI

Frank is not much of a fisherman, hunter, etc., but loves all kinds of sports. He sponsors a softball team, a bowling team, loans his place of business, the Knock Knock Club for all kinds of benefits free to all organizations.

His main love is going to fights and football games. His favorite saying is "Where You At." His many friends from New Orleans come to the Knock Knock just to linger and chat with their friends. He is a congenial fellow and always ready to help in any way he can. He is a real sport in my estimation!

1964 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

The 1964 feed grain program is most the same as the one for 1963. It does, however, have two important changes, which are the most interest to farmers who also grow wheat on their farms.

Officials of the Hancock Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office note that the current feed grain program has an upper limit of 50 percent diversion of the total feed grain base for a farm. This is up from the 40 percent in the program last year.

The County Chairman, Tommy Shaw, said that any feed grain farmer who does divert 40 percent or more, is also eligible for the maximum payment rate per acre. The rate for such farms will be based on one-half of the county's total price-support rate for the feed grain diverted. That rate will apply to all acres diverted. Farms with a total feed grain base of 25 acres or less can still put all the acres in the program at the high rate of payment.

In writing the provisions of the '64 feed grain program, much thought was given to ways in which it might cushion any loss otherwise sustained by those farmers who also grow wheat. At the same time, it was necessary for the feed grain program to continue the progress already made under the previous program.

Additional information, as always, is available at the ASCS County Office.

WATERWAY COULD REDUCE COSTS OF LIVESTOCK FEEDING

STATE COLLEGE - Research on the proposed Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway indicates this project could have a favorable effect on agriculture by reducing transportation costs in 27 Mississippi counties along the state's eastern boundaries.

Results of an Experiment Station study have been reported by Robert G. Brooks of the Agricultural Economics Department. Development of this waterway, Mr. Brooks says, is likely to reduce procurement costs of Mid-west grain in some Mississippi points by as much as 6.5 to 14.6 cents per bushel.

These savings on grain could reduce broiler production costs by at least two-thirds of a cent per bird and beef cattle feeding costs by as much as $1.56 per 100 pounds of gain in the area affected. Opening this waterway would also make possible 5 to 6 cents per bushel savings in transporting soybeans from northeast Mississippi points to Gulf ports for export.

"The extent of the effects of the waterway will depend primarily upon the actual rate structure which develops for it," according to Mr. Brooks. "On the other hand, it is logical to expect that the opening of the waterway would accelerate area developments in fields other than agriculture. Whether such developments would be sufficient to materially affect the pattern of farming is a question beyond the scope of this study."

The complete report of the study is published as Experiment Station Bulletin 663 and is available on request from the Experiment Station at State College, Mississippi.

Nice Things Happen to Systematic Savers

Ever notice how it is with some families? They always seem to have the money to go off on the most exciting vacation trips, buy and furnish the nicest homes, give their children the best educations. Often the answer is not to be found in the size of their income, but in what they DO with it. By systematically saving part of it, they manage to have "what it takes" to enjoy the best things of life. If they save here (as many do) where their money earns interest.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BIG DAY

It's an odd feeling when children start to school. As a parent, you are tremendously proud and excited. But you are also a little afraid.

For the first time, your Johnnie and Susie are going off on their own. Suddenly, they look smaller than they have since they were babies, and you have an irresistible impulse to run after them. But it's too late for that—so you let them go, with a smile on your lips and a fervent prayer in your heart.

Later, when the first rush of emotion passes and reason returns, you laugh at yourself. For the truth is that Johnnie and Susie are exactly where they've always been: in God's care, whether at home, in school, at play, or in church. And, grateful for this truth, you remind yourself that next Sunday you'll remember to thank God for that care... a little more than usual.

Hebert-Bernheim Wedding

St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Stephanie Anne Bernheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Bernheim of Gulfport to Harry Joseph Hebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hebert of Lafayette, La., at a Nuptial Mass at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, August 31.

The Rev. Monsignor Thomas E. Williams performed the double ceremony before an altar decorated with white roses, majestic daisies, fern and seven-branched candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white imported Swiss organdy dress fashioned with a tight-fitted bodice with a full tucked skirt. Graduating tucks with a fullness in the back formed a slight train. The sleeves extended from the tucked shoulder with fullness that tapered to a calla point over the hands.

The dress was originally designed and made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux of Bay St. Louis, and worn by her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Bonck, the former Jeanne Arceneaux, on her wedding day.

Her cathedral veil of illusion was held in place by a coronet of pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Her only jewelry was a diamond and sapphire lavalier, a family heirloom.

Miss Stephanie Anne Bruchez, of Iola, La., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Misses Lynn and Paulette Bernheim, sisters of the bride, and Miss Carolyn Hatten of Gulfport were bridesmaids.

They wore street length organdy dresses in pastel colors of yellow, blue, green and lavender. They wore matching head pieces of flowers with small veils and carried cascade bouquets of daisies.

Ronald Hebert was his brother's best man and groomsmen were Fred Orr of New Iberia, La., Roy Martin of Carencro, La., and Russell Romero, of Abbeville, La., cousin of the groom.

Daisies and silver candelabra decorated the Gold Room at Markham Hotel for the reception following the ceremony. The tiered wedding cake was encircled with white flowers and greenery.

The couple was assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. C. Bass Jr., Laurel, aunt of the bride, mothers of the bride and groom and members of the wedding party.

For traveling the bride chose a pink linen two-piece suit with white lace overlay on the jacket, matching hat, white accessories, and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Hebert will make their home at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

The bride, a graduate of St. John's Catholic High School, Gulfport, was valedictorian of her class.
